costlier with 5% tax collection at source
International tour packages may become

Welcome decisions

According to the budget document, the government plans to set up a portal where tourists can collect tax at source in non-PA/Nadhvi cases. This move will ensure that the tax is collected at the source. The Finance Minister, Nirmala Sitharaman, also announced that the government plans to increase the stamp duty to 4% on properties.

"The government is taking steps to bring tax evasion to an end," Sitharaman said. "We are also increasing the stamp duty on properties to make it more expensive for buyers to pay in cash."

Boost for transport operators

The transport operators were also happy with the decision. "This is a big boost for us," said Anil Singh, managing director of a transport company. "The decision will help us get more business and increase our profits."

The government also increased the budget for tourism to Rs 20,000 crore. This will help in the development of tourism infrastructure.

"This is a big boost for the tourism industry," said Rahul shrivastava, chief executive of a tourism company. "We are happy with the government's decision to increase the budget for tourism."

The government also announced that it will provide Rs 10,000 crore in corpus funds to the Indian Railways to support the railway network.

"This is a big boost for the railway network," said Vinita Das, managing director of a railway company. "We are happy with the government's decision to provide Rs 10,000 crore in corpus funds to the Indian Railways."

According to the budget document, the government plans to increase the excise duty on alcohol from 22% to 25%.

"This is a big boost for the alcohol industry," said Deepak Mehta, managing director of an alcohol company. "We are happy with the government's decision to increase the excise duty on alcohol."

The government also announced that it will provide Rs 5,000 crore in corpus funds to the National Health Mission.

"This is a big boost for the healthcare sector," said Arun Khattar, managing director of a healthcare company. "We are happy with the government's decision to provide Rs 5,000 crore in corpus funds to the National Health Mission."

The government also announced that it will provide Rs 5,000 crore in corpus funds to the National Education Mission.

"This is a big boost for the education sector," said Vinod Shrivastava, managing director of an education company. "We are happy with the government's decision to provide Rs 5,000 crore in corpus funds to the National Education Mission."

The government also announced that it will provide Rs 5,000 crore in corpus funds to the National Research Mission.

"This is a big boost for the research sector," said Praveen Khattar, managing director of a research company. "We are happy with the government's decision to provide Rs 5,000 crore in corpus funds to the National Research Mission."

According to the budget document, the government plans to increase the minimum wage from Rs 17,500 to Rs 21,000.

"This is a big boost for the working class," said Rajesh Shrivastava, managing director of a small industry. "We are happy with the government's decision to increase the minimum wage from Rs 17,500 to Rs 21,000."