It’s time to take bold investment steps: PM

Initial data released by the Bureau of Economic Analysis showed that consumer spending accounted for more than 75% of all U.S. fourth-quarter GDP growth. Unemployment in the country fell to 5.5% in 2018, record low since 2000. Nevertheless, the Federal Reserve announced plans to raise interest rates in the near future, sparking concerns about the economy's long-term stability.

The government announced plans to increase defense spending by 10% over the next five years, aiming to boost military capabilities and deter potential threats. This move, however, has drawn criticism from some who believe it will divert funds from critical domestic programs, such as education and infrastructure development.

Meanwhile, the country's trade deficit widened, exacerbating concerns about the health of the economy. Analysts warn that a prolonged trade conflict could lead to higher tariffs, which would affect consumer spending and business confidence. The Federal Reserve is closely monitoring these developments and is expected to announce its policy decision in the coming weeks.

The stock market remained volatile as investors weighed the potential impact of rising interest rates and trade tensions. Tech companies and pharmaceutical firms were among the hardest hit, with their share prices declining significantly. However, some sectors, such as healthcare and consumer goods, have shown resilience.

Overall, the economy continues to grow, but challenges remain. Policymakers are urged to act decisively to ensure a strong and sustainable recovery.

Low GDP not for the first time, economy to bounce back: Modi

New Delhi, Dec 28 (ANI): Noting that the economy has gone through ups and downs in the past too, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday cited various economic data from previous governments to suggest that the economy would bounce back again with much vigour and strength.

Speaking at the centenary event of industry chamber Assocham, Modi said that GDP growth in one of the quarters in previous government had plummeted to 3.5 per cent and other macro indicators were equally disappointing.

The Prime Minister said that he does not want to get into the debate as to why certain people remained silent then, adding that the economy would come out of the current slowdown.

"In previous governments also, in one quarter the GDP growth had fallen to 3.5 per cent. During that time, when did CPI headline inflation reach? You would recall, it had reached 9.4 per cent. Where was CPI core inflation? It was 7.5 per cent. What was WPI inflation? It had reached 13.1 per cent. To what level did fiscal deficit reach? It was 3.6 per cent of GDP,” the PM said.

"At that time, many quarters had gone like that which was very disappointing from the economy point of view. I do not want to get into the debate as to why some people were silent then," he added.

India’s GDP fell over six-year low in July-September quarter of the current fiscal to 4.5 per cent, drawing flak from the opposition parties. Most high-frequency indicators such as core sector data, manufacturing growth and electricity generation have been discouraging.

Listing out achievements of his government over the past five years, Modi said a strong foundation has been laid and structural changes were made to ensure India becomes a $5 trillion economy. He said that his government did not only stop the economy from heading to disaster but also put it on the right track.

Further, several steps have been taken to make the banking system strong, robust and transparent. As a result, 11 banks have turned profitable after losing heavily due to bad loans.

The Prime Minister said that government would spend Rs 100 lakh crore in building infrastructure while Rs 25 lakh crore to give fillip to the rural economy. For "Har Jal Ola", the government would spend Rs 3.5 lakh crore. Under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana, two crore new houses would be built.

Modi noted that foreign direct investment (FDI) had grown consistently in the last five years. In fact, he gave two definitions for FDI: One that is in real one and the other "first develop India".

He mentioned that India’s Ease of Doing Business ranking has rapidly improved and now stands at 63rd position from 142 stands.

Addressing the captains of the industry at Vigyan Bhawan in the national capital, Modi said that corporate tax was currently the cost in the history of India and pointed out reforms in tax systems and Companies Act to make the regime industry-friendly and also competitive in the world.

He also called upon the industry to work here in the country, and don’t worry about anything as no unjust actions would be taken against companies. “Flight line airports happen, goa blue economy, our sage aircraft happen”, he said.

He also told industry to strengthen vocational creation and job creation, the government is thinking with them.

Govt Decriminalised Laws in Corporate Sector for Fearless Ecosystem: PM

"We have taken the historic decision to decriminalise 27 laws in the corporate sector. This will provide a more conducive and a safer ecosystem for businesses in India.

The decision is aimed at ensuring a level-playing field for all businesses, including small and medium enterprises. It will help in creating a more transparent and accountable regulatory environment, which is essential for the growth and development of the corporate sector.

The decriminalisation of these laws will allow businesses to operate without fear of being penalised for minor violations. This will help in enhancing the ease of doing business in India and attract foreign investments.

We are committed to creating an enabling environment for businesses to grow and prosper. The decriminalisation of these laws is a step in the right direction, and we will continue to take such steps to further improve the business climate in India.

Thank you."
West Bengal Governor disagrees with Mamata’s UN-monitored referendum demand on CAA, NRC

West Bengal Governor N中共itha Banerjee has disagreed with Mamata Banerjee’s proposal for a UN-monitored referendum on the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) and the National Register of Citizens (NRC).

The Governor told the media that such a referendum would not be fair and would only create confusion.

“There is no one [in the country] who wants a referendum. The Governor’s statement is based on disinformation,” Mamata Banerjee’s official spokesperson Arup Bagchi said.

Mamata Banerjee had earlier said that a referendum on the CAA and NRC would be held to ensure that no one is left out.

However, Governor Banerjee said, “If there is a referendum, it will not be fair. It cannot be done in such a way that everyone is happy. If you say what is good for you, the other party will not agree. People don’t施工 their personal beliefs in such a situation.”

Mamata Banerjee had earlier announced that she would not participate in the first phase of the Eastern India Lok Sabha polls, which is due on February 8. She has also said that she will refrain from getting involved in the polls.

The Governor’s statement comes at a time when the CAA and NRC have been a source of controversy in India. The CAA has been widely criticized for giving citizenship to non-Muslims from Pakistan, Bangladesh, and Afghanistan, while the NRC has been used to identify illegal immigrants from Bangladesh.

On the other hand, the government has defended the CAA and NRC, saying that they are necessary to ensure national security and prevent illegal immigration.

West Bengal govenor disagrees with Mamata's UN-monitored referendum demand on CAA, NRC

KOLKATA: West Bengal governor Jagdeep Dhankhar on Monday disagreed with West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee’s demand for a UN-monitored referendum on CAA and NRC, saying that he could not decide on the subject. “It’s for the people of the country,” he said.

“Any authority should not make such an intervention. It’s not only for our country, it’s for the whole world,” he added.

Dhankhar, in a press conference, said his request was a course correction of the wrong takeaways of the government.

“I have made this proposal on the basis of the recommendations of the Law Commission and the Constitution of India. The government, therefore, will go a step ahead and if the government is not moving, then the people of the country will move,” he said.

The governor said he was not trying to turn things around but to correct the wrong actions of the government.

The government has attached a lot of importance to the NRC card, which is a “very effective mechanism” for the reintegration of individuals into the states between the Union and states.

Industry needs to come out of 'self doubt' mood: Nirmala Sitharaman

NEW DELHI: Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday asked firms to come out of 'self doubt' mood and unleash the animal spirits. She underscored that steps taken in past Budgets have started showing some results on the ground.

The government has taken driven steps to change the mood of the system, take some tough decisions and make sure it is responsive to industry, she said at industry body Assocham's event in New Delhi.

According to her, major steps taken in the past five years have helped India stand out to the world and industry is a part of the change.

"I would appeal to you that please get out of the mood of self doubt. Can we do it? Can India do it? . . . why is the regulator nervous? Get out of this self doubt," she said and emphasised that most of the macroeconomic indicators are strong.

Inflation has been under control; macroeconomic fundamentals are absolutely strong; PSU inflows have been strong, foreign exchange reserves are at record highs. PSU banks have been put in a good fiscal position, Sitharaman said.

Her comments assume significance in view of recent global investment and economic slowdowns.

Urging firms to participate in the growth story, Sitharaman said they should participate in the infrastructure programmes by becoming the first stakeholders.

"This government does not want businesses to close. We want to help them to be resumed by legislation and other administrative changes . . . we are with you. I want that cloud of self doubt should be completely removed from your minds.

"Believe in India. You have done that for last 69 years. There is a need for all of you to do it more now. You have to be the change agent and don't ask animal spirits to be brought to you. You have to lead, get it out," she noted.

On December 2019

Corporate India has pitched for a "uniform" rate of corporate tax, further slashing the existing rate of 22 per cent for existing firms and bringing it closer with the 15 per cent rate prescribed for new manufacturing firms.

According to Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), the current double rate of taxation creates "inequality".

All corporate tax rates in the country should be cut to 15 per cent over three years from 1 April 2020 and do away with all exemptions and incentives, CII president Vikram Khosla suggested to finance minister Nitin Gadkari at a pre-Budget meeting on Thursday.

The CII came up with 16 points to improve ease of doing business, strengthen the role of the state, enhance export competitiveness, and revive private investment and growth.
