Modi Says Agri Reforms Helping Farmers

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday had sold his government’s reforms in areas such as manufacturing taxation and labour, saying they have changed the world’s perception about the country from “why India” to “why not India”. He said the record foreign investment inflow seen during the pandemic is a testimony to that. Speaking at Assocham’s Foundation Week event, Modi said agriculture reforms brought by his government six months ago have started benefiting farmers. The reforms in the last six years have changed the investing sentiment of industry. “Earlier there was so much government interference that investors said ‘why India’. Today the faith reposed by the government in the private sector and encouragement of foreign investors have made the same people say ‘why not India’,” he said, asking industry to take all efforts to make India self-reliant.

‘Why India’ is now ‘why not India’: PM

Says agri reforms brought 6 months back have started to benefit farmers

PRESIDENT OF INDIA

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Saturday's visit to the country's capital, saying they have changed the world perception about India but easing compliance burden in the new labour laws have made them say why not India, he said. Red tape previously made investors say why India but a great deal is now making them say why not India, he said. From a non-existent culture for innovation to a new ecosystem promoting and nurturing startups has given the world confidence to say why not India. Earlier there was some government interference that made people say why India. Today, the country is moving towards a self-reliant Bharat (self-reliant India). The government’s focus is on manufacturing and production-linked incentives have been given to domestic capabilities and capacity, he said.

We have moved from ‘Why India’ to ‘Why Not India’: PM

OUR BUREAU
New Delhi, December 18

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said there is so much positivity in the world about India, that the sentiment has shifted from ‘Why India’ to ‘Why not India’. He also urged India Inc to invest more in research and development (R&D).

Addressing members of industry chamber Assocham, Modi attributed the positivity about India’s success to the unprecedented confidence of over 300 crore Indians.

“Now India is moving ahead with new energy. Reforms in the country have shifted the industry’s sentiment from ‘why India’ to ‘why not India’ in investing,” he said.

‘Raise R&D spends’
He urged Indian industry to increase its investments in R&D, especially in sectors like agriculture, defence, space, energy, construction, pharma and transport. In the US, 70 per cent of investments in R&D come from the private sector, Modi added.

The Prime Minister remarked that the world is moving rapidly towards the fourth industrial revolution; challenges will come in the form of new technology. He urged the business leaders to come together every year and connect every goal with one larger goal of nation building. He said this is the time for Indian industry to demonstrate capability, commitment and courage to the world. “Not only achieving self-reliance is important, how soon we achieve this goal is equally important,” he added.

Manufacturing push
Modi said that new India, by relying on its strength and own resources, is pushing for Atmanirbhar Bharat with focus on manufacturing. He said reforms are continuously being undertaken to promote manufacturing in India.

“As we move forward on the mission mode to make local a global one, we have to react quickly to every geopolitical development,” he said, while stressing on the need to have an effective mechanism to meet any sudden demand in the global supply chain. The need of the hour is to achieve better synergy between industry organisations such as Assocham with the Ministry of External Affairs, Commerce & Trade to achieve the goal. He asked industry for suggestions to react quickly to global transformations.

Modi said India has, meanwhile, taken the responsibility of helping the world by delivering Covid vaccine to many countries. He urged the Assocham members to provide a global platform for showcasing the products of rural artisans, saying it will help in bridging the rural-urban divide.
Reforms helped change image of India, says PM

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The spate of reforms unveiled by the government has helped change the perception about India on the global stage and investors who were sceptical about the country are taking a renewed interest. PM Narendra Modi said on Saturday as he mounted a strong defence of the changes undertaken across a raft of sectors ranging from manufacturing, farming, taxation and labour.

“There was a situation in the past when investors would question ‘why India’? With reforms (of past six years) and their effects, its proposition has changed to ‘why not India’,” Modi said in his address at the foundation week ceremony of industry lobby group Assocham.

The PM’s strong backing of reforms comes against the backdrop of the farmers’ protest to repeal the reforms undertaken in the farm sector.

“The world trusts the Indian economy. Record FDI and FPI during the pandemic is a testimony of that,” said Modi, adding that 1,500 archaic and obsolete laws and framing new changes to keep pace with the changing investment order was an example of the government’s outlook. He urged the industry to increase domestic investment in line with the increased confidence of the world. “From a non-existent culture for innovation to a new ecosystem promoting and nurturing start-ups has given the world confidence to say ‘why not India’,” Modi said.

The PM said India is also capable of helping the world while meeting its needs. Even during the pandemic, India has taken the responsibility of being the pharmacy of the world and delivered essential medicines across the globe. “Now even in the case of vaccines, India will fulfil its needs and also meet the expectations of many countries,” said Modi.

He urged industry to provide a global platform for showcasing the products of rural artisans. He said this would help bridge the rural-urban divide. The PM also stressed the need for the Centre to work together with state governments, farm organisations and industry associations for better promotion of the country’s organic farm products, better infrastructure and better market. “If our farm sector gets properly promoted, gets proper infrastructure, gets better markets, then the entire rural economy can scale new heights,” the PM said. He urged the industry to make all efforts to make India self-reliant and said investment in research and development must be stepped up.

This came even as Modi urged people to read and share widely an e-booklet issued by the government highlighting how the recent agri-reforms help farmers, PTI reported.

Benefits of new reforms reaching farmers: PM

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Farmers are already reaping the benefits of the reforms brought in six months ago, and better infrastructure and market access for the farm sector could take the rural economy to new heights, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Saturday.

In an address at the Assocham Foundation Week, he urged industry to scale up domestic investments, as well as evoke greater confidence in the country’s growth story among foreign investors.

It was imperative for businesses to devote more energy to bridging the rural-urban divide and support women, youth and smaller enterprises, he said.

“Keeping the country’s needs in mind, work on the formulation of new laws is continuing ceaselessly. The benefits of the farm reforms that were implemented six months ago, have also begun reaching the farmers... If our farm sector gets access to better promotion, infrastructure and markets, then our entire rural economy can reach the peak,” he said.

“India is also capable of fulfilling its own needs and helping the world. From farmers to pharma, India has demonstrated this. Now in science also, India will not only fulfill its own needs but also deliver on the hopes of several countries in the world,” he asserted.

“Industry can help multiply the efforts of the government over the past six years to reduce the rural-urban divide. ASSOCHAM members can help give our villages a global platform. To ensure that the farmers in villages can reach global markets digitally, we are working on providing broadband connectivity to every village,” he said.

Mr. Modi referred to rural opportunities like organic farming and herbal products that could be promoted by industry bodies around the world. The Central government, state governments and farmer organizations should work together, he urged.

PM stresses on India’s economic potential, defends new farm laws

Urges industry heads to invest in R&D to achieve self-reliance, says country’s startup ecosystem showed world-beating growth

NEW DELHI: India’s economic potential remains strong despite the pandemic, and the global narrative has changed from “why India?” to “why not India?” Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Saturday while addressing business lobby group ASSOCHAM’s Foundation Week 2020, when he also defended the latest farm laws that have stirred widespread protests.

The FM revealed that farmers had benefited from a set of reforms approved in June, including the three agricultural laws that thousands of farmers are protesting for weeks now. He said despite a pandemic-induced contraction in gross domestic product of 7.3% in the July-September quarter, the country had attracted significant foreign direct investment and business activity was last recovering.

The PM noted that India’s economic potential remains strong despite the pandemic, and that the global narrative has changed from “why India?” to “why not India?”

PM Narendra Modi interacts with industrialist Ratan Tata (top left) and others at ASSOCHAM Foundation Week, via video link, in New Delhi on Saturday.

The Prime Minister set a goal of doubling down on an economic growth in the next 27 years when India will celebrate its 100th years of independence in 2027. “This is the time to grow and act and focus on national building in the next 27 years will decide India’s global role,” PM Modi said. India was emerging as a top competitor in key areas that will define its place in the global economy.

India’s youth are making a name in startups and the country’s digital payments and other innovations have made it a leading economy in this field, Modi said. India’s startup ecosystem has shown world-beating growth.

In 2020, over 1,300 startups were registered, a year when private equity investments in the sector hit a 10-year high, attracting $27 billion and showing annual growth of 68.5%.

‘Reforms already helping farmers’

Reforms, repealing of more than 1500 outdated laws, ease in labour laws … have turned the past’s rhetoric of “why India?” into “Why not India?”

NARENDRA MODI, Prime Minister

NEW DELHI: Prime Minister Narendra Modi said the country’s economic potential remains strong despite the pandemic, saying the global narrative has shifted from “why India?” to “why not India?” while virtually addressing ASSOCHAM’s Foundation Week 2020 on Saturday.

Modi re-emphasised that the farmers had benefited from a set reforms approved in June, including the three agricultural laws thousands of farmers have been protesting against for weeks now.

Despite a pandemic-induced contraction in gross domestic product (GDP) of 7.3% in the July-September quarter, the Prime Minister said the country had attracted significant foreign direct investment and business activity was fast recovering.

The PM called on Industry heads to raise investment in research and development to achieve the goal of self-reliance. He highlighted a series of new reforms that laid a strong basis for long-term growth. These reforms had helped the world turn to India as the top business destination, he said.

“Reforms, repealing of more than 1500 outdated laws, ease in labour laws, red tape being replaced by red carpet and competitive tax rates and innovations have turned the past’s rhetoric of “why India?” into “Why not India?” Modi said, virtually addressing key industrialists.

The Prime Minister set a goal of doubling economic growth in the next 27 years when India will celebrate its 100th years of Independence in 2047. “This is the time to plan and act and focus on nation-building as the next 27 years will decide India’s global role,” Modi said.

He said India was emerging as a top competitor in key areas that will define its place in the global economy.

PM urges private sector to step up investment in R&D across sectors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
NEW DELHI, DECEMBER 19

Most of the investment in research and development across sectors is done by the public sector in the US, the private sector invests about 70 per cent of the total investment done by R&D in India, the same is done by the public sector. In this way, a big part is done in IT, information technology, pharmaceutical transport sectors.” Modi said in his address, adding that it was the need of the hour that private sectors in India must step up its investment in R&D.

The funds by the private sector should also be kept aside for new sectors such as agriculture, defence, space, energy and construction, the Prime Minister said. During the event, Modi also said that in the past six years, the global perception had changed from being a “Why India” to “why not India.”

“Prime time for investment in the country,” the Prime Minister said. Today the faith held by the government in the private sector and encouragement of foreign investors have made the same people say “why not India,” the prime minister said. As a part of its effort to improve ease of doing business, the government has, among others, been deregulating several sections of the Companies Act, which earlier had very stringent measures for small violations.

The move has been part of larger government efforts to boost ease of doing business since 2014. The government has been intensifying efforts include administrative reforms such as delays in filing CSR reports or failure to rectify the register of members in compliance with orders from the NCLT. Experts point out that these measures are aimed at increasing the ease of doing business for companies in India.
Reforms have changed investors’ perceptions: PM

Says scrapping of obsolete laws, other reforms have led to the shift

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said that the reforms done by the government over the past six years—from taxation to labour—have changed the world’s perception about India. They have gone from ‘why India’ to ‘why not India’, he said, holding up the foreign investment seen during the pandemic as a testimony.

“There was a situation in the past when investors would question ‘why India’ (for investing in the country). With reforms (of past six years) and their effects, this proposition has changed to ‘why not India’,” Modi said, speaking at Assocham’s Foundation Week.

He cited the scrapping of 1,500 old and obsolete laws and framing new ones in tune with the changing investment order as an example of the government’s outlook. Modi also said that the new agriculture reforms have started benefiting farmers.

The government’s main focus is on local manufacturing and production-linked incentives have been implemented to boost domestic capabilities. He said pointing out the move towards a self-reliant India. “Today when we are on mission mode to make local global, we have to react fast to geopolitical developments. A mechanism has to be developed to see how India can meet any sudden spurt in demand in the global supply chain,” the Prime Minister said, adding that there was a need for better coordination between the Ministries of External Affairs, Commerce and Trade, and industry associations.

Modi went on to say that investment in research and development (R&D) must be increased, and that the private sector need to increase its investment here. “There is a great need to increase investment in R&D. In the US, 70 per cent of investments in R&D is done by the private sector; in India the same is done by the public sector,” he said.

The PM Modi has been speaking nearly every day at industry conventions and conferences with overseas entrepreneurs as the government seeks to draw $100 billion worth of FDI inflow in the next two years.

As the farmers' protest entered the 24th day with no resolution in sight, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday highlighted how his government's reforms have changed the world's perception about India. Meanwhile, Home Minister Amit Shah had lunch at a farmer's home in West Bengal in full media view, apparently seeking to counter the opposition's "anti-farmer" campaign against the NDA government.

Separately, in a tweet, he urged people to read and share widely an e-booklet issued by the government highlighting how the recent agri-reforms help farmers.

The 108-page e-booklet in English and Hindi released by the government highlights the success stories of farmers who benefitted from the new laws.

Meanwhile, the agriculture minister's letter backfired on him. Farmers questioning the mention of the role of the Opposition parties in it and slammed the attempt to link their protest to metropolitan cities.

This also led to unexpected outcomes for the BJP.

In Haryana, farmer union minister and BJP leader Chawdhary Birender Singh extended support to farmer agitation.

Farmer Unions are encouraged by the support and intervention into the matter and have assured that no farmer organisation approached the court to seek its intervention in the matter.

In the poll-bound West Bengal's Paschim Medinipur district, Shah had lunch at a farmer's house, a move that came in the backdrop of the ongoing farmers' protests in Delhi to win Narendra Modi's quick assurance that all issues will be taken up in their favor and farmers would not have to fight for their rights.

ASSOCHAM’S FOUNDATION WEEK

Why India’ to ‘Why not India: Modi on effects of his govt’s reforms

The PM called on the industry to make all efforts to make India self-reliant

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said his government’s reforms spanning from manufacturing to taxation to labour, saying they have changed the world perception about the country from ‘why India’ to ‘why not India’ and went on to quote record foreign investment during the pandemic as a testimony to that.

Speaking at the industry association ASSOCHAM’s Foundation Week event, Modi also said agriculture reforms brought by his government in just six months have started benefiting farmers.

There was a situation in the past when investors would question ‘why India’ (for investing in the country). With reforms (of past six years) and their effects, its proposition has changed to ‘why not India’,” he said.

He cited scrapping of 1,300 old and obsolete laws and farming nuances that are in tune with the changing investment order as an example of his government’s outlook.

“Earlier investors cited high tax rates to say why India but today (corporate) tax rates are so competitive that they say ‘why not India’,” he said & asked the industry to adopt best corporate governance practices. —PTI

'Why India' to 'Why Not India': Modi on change his reforms have brought

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday hard sold his government’s reforms spanning from manufacturing to taxation to labour, saying they have changed the world perception about the country from ‘Why India’ to ‘why not India’ and gone on to quote record foreign investment during the pandemic as a testimony to that.

Speaking at industry association Assocham’s Foundation Week event, Modi also said agriculture reforms brought by his government six months back have started benefiting farmers.

The reforms in the last six years have influenced in changing the sentiment of the industry from ‘why India’ to ‘why not India’ in investing.

‘There was a situation in the past when investors would question ‘why India’ (for investing in the country). With reforms (of past six years) and their effects, its proposition has changed to ‘why not India,” he said.
PM Modi says agri reforms have started benefiting farmers

As farmer protests against new farm laws entered the 24th day, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said reforms brought by his government six months ago have started benefitting farmers. Speaking at an Asean business convention, Modi highlighted reforms spanning from the manufacturing sector to labour to say India has during the last six years emerged as the world’s preferred destination for investment.

Record foreign direct investment (FDI) and foreign portfolio investment (FPI) during the pandemic is a testimony to the faith that the world now has in India, he said. “Agriculture reforms initiated six months back have started benefitting farmers,” he said without elaborating.

Hundreds of farmers from states like Punjab and Haryana have blocked some of the highways leading to Delhi for more than three weeks now against the new farm laws which they fear will prompt the government to stop making direct crop purchases at minimum state-set prices, called minimum support price (MSP).

Benefits of farm reforms brought in 6 months ago have begun reaching farmers: PM

He urges industry to significantly scale up domestic investments, so as to evoke greater confidence in the country’s growth story among foreign investors.

Farmers are already reaping the benefits of the reforms brought in six months ago and better infrastructure and market access for the farm sector could take the rural economy to new heights, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Saturday.

“Keeping the country’s needs in mind, work on the formulation of new laws is continuing ceaselessly. The benefits of the farm reforms that were implemented six months ago, have also begun reaching the farmers. If our farm sector gets access to better promotion, infrastructure and markets, then our entire rural economy can reach the peak,” he stated.

"Why India" to "Why Not India": Modi on change his reforms have brought

New Delhi, Dec 19 (PTI) Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday hard sold his government’s reforms spanning from manufacturing to taxation to labour, saying they have changed the world perception about the country from "why India" to "why not India" and went on to quote record foreign investment during the pandemic as a testimony to that.

Speaking at industry association Assocham’s Foundation Week event, Modi also said agriculture reforms brought by his government six months back have started benefiting farmers.

"There was a situation in the past when investors would question “why India” (for investing in the country). With reforms (of past six years) and their effects, its proposition has changed to “why not India”," he said.

He cited scrapping of 1,500 old and obsolete laws and framing new ones that in tune with the changing investment order as an example of his government’s outlook.

“Earlier investors cited high tax rates to say Why India but today (corporate) tax rates are so competitive that they say ‘why not India’,” he said.

Previously, a web of regulations and rules were cited by investors to ask why to invest in India but easing compliance burden in the new labour laws have made them say ‘why not India’, he said.

Red tape previously made investors say Why India but a red carpet is now making them say ‘why not India’, he said.

“From a non-existent culture for innovation to a new ecosystem promoting and nurturing startups has given the world confidence to say ‘why not India’.

"Earlier there was so much government interference that investors said ‘why India’. Today the faith reposed by the government in the private sector and encouragement of foreign investors have made the same people say ‘why not India’," he said. He stated that new India is pushing towards AatmaNirbhar Bharat (self-reliant India).
